Stockholm, March 21. (P) — A train from Bydgoszcz, bearing local Nazi party leaders, recently arrived at a Berlin railway station while thousands of the capital's residents stood outside.

The smartly uniformed leaders, who were the first to leave Bydgoszcz, in northwestern Poland, as the Red army approached, carried all their luggage and were met by a fleet of motor cars. Their situation contrasted sharply with the misery of other refugees.

The Berliners spoke their minds. The crowd grew so threatening the party leaders became nervous and ordered the guards to fire into the air.

Liberties Cost Lives
The affair became so widely known that the leaders had to pay with their lives. They had broken the one condition under which Hitler allowed his Nazi comrades liberties at the expense of the population. They had been found out.

These Berlin people were no rabble. Their attitude represented the true feelings of the German nation and they had to be calmed. Therefore Hitler ordered the execution of the Bydgoszcz party leaders as deserters. Party officials in Berlin, who had been told the incident, were directed to say it was "merely shooting practice."

Germany has become a vast refugee camp and the refugee problem is one reason for the cleavage which has developed between the Nazi party, the army and the ordinary civilian.

Crowds Bitter
I saw at first hand an example of this cleavage when I traveled on a refugee train from Sorau, at the Silesian front, to Berlin.

Our train was scheduled to start at 10:30 a. m. and the people of Sorau tried to storm aboard but they were fended off by armed party men and policemen who formed a cordon around the station. Three hours later Russian tanks reached Sorau's outskirts and only then was the evacuation permitted to begin.

The next and last train steamed out at 3:30 p. m., during street fighting. This time the population was allowed to board it freely because the party bosses and police had vanished. The train was about three-quarters full of soldiers who were "evacuating" on their own.

The soldiers and the women in the crowd argued heatedly. The women shouted "deserters." The soldiers said that they had no more ammunition.

I never have heard such bitter criticism of the party as when our group of refugees joined others from different sectors after we had changed trains.

Most of the refugees were agreed that if the defeated German armies were swept into a state of disintegration then no one would be safe in his own home. Most German soldiers and home, after six years of life, have no home to which to return.

All over Germany great caravans of refugees are inching along. Fifteen miles a day is about all they can cover. They trudge past the carcasses of horses and other animals which collapsed and died.

LID IS CLAMPED
ON PRISON QUIZEscape Investigation At Jackson Will Be Kept Secret

Jackson, Mich., March 21. (P)—State law enforcement authorities clamped the lid today on information concerning their investigation of conditions at southern Michigan prison, an inquiry touched off by the escape of Joseph Medley, 43, now facing a murder charge in Washington.

Capt. Harold Mulbar, head of the state police detective bureau, who is participating in the inquiry along with state corrections director Garrett Heyns and assistant Attorney General Harry W. Jackson, said today there was a mutual agreement for secrecy.

Neither the identity of persons questioned nor the subject of their discussions would be disclosed, he said, until the investigation is completed, which may take several days.

The questioning is being conducted in the state police office near the prison.

Heyns said the investigators would "spare no effort to determine if there is any truth to rumors of collusion between prison officials and inmates and of use of liquor and narcotics in the prison."

Hospital Director
At $15,000 Salary
Proposed For State

Lansing, March 21. (P)—A study committee's bill calling for abolition of the present state hospital commission of seven members and placing the program in charge of a director who would become the state's highest paid official was endorsed today by Governor Kelly.

A joint committee of the house and senate has drafted the bill, which would create the office of state mental health director at a salary of $12,000 to $15,000 a year. The director, a psychiatrist, would supervise a mental program divided into three sections—business administration, hospital administration, and mental hygiene, stressing the prevention of mental illness.

Kelly said the principal concern of the director would be business administration and mental hygiene, with treatment and custodial care remaining largely in the hands of the individual hospital superintendents. The director would retain such controls as necessary to maintain a coordinated program, Kelly said.

Great Lakes Fish
Prices Too High;
OPA Calls Meeting

Chicago, March 21. (P)—Rae E. Walters, regional OPA administrator, said today that the fishing industry and OPA members will meet this week in Detroit, Mich., Buffalo, N. Y., and Chicago to discuss prices on fresh Great Lakes fish.

"The OPA will advise them that the prices must be rolled back or price control is inevitable," Walters said.

He added that such fish prices are 50 per cent higher than in 1942.

Yanks Crash Into
Great Rhine City
Of Ludwigshafen

By Austin Bealmear

Paris, Thursday, March 22. (P)—American tanks crashed through the great German chemical center of Ludwigshafen on the Rhine today as the U. S. Third and Seventh armies continued to grind disorganized German forces west of the river in the inroad of disaster that may cost the enemy as many as 100,000 men in killed, wounded and captured.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's racing Third army armored forces plunged straight through Ludwigshafen and reached the Rhine inside that city of 150,000 population. They sent another column slashing southward to the highway junction of Neustadt, where it was within 19 miles of another junction with the Seventh army—a new giant potential trap around the Nazis.

Bridgehead Enlarged

At the same time doughboys of Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First army east of the Rhine, reinforced by armor for the first time since the original crossing two weeks ago, enlarged the Remagen bridgehead northward as much as three miles and fanned out along a seven mile stretch of the Seig River which flows into the Rhine north of Bonn.

FUNDS TO BUILD
AIRPORTS ASKED

Kelly Says Board Must Fight Its Own Battle
For $5,000,000

Lansing, March 21. (P)—Governor Kelly virtually told the state board of aeronautics today it will have to fight its own battle in the legislature for a $5,000,000 appropriation for the construction of new airports.

After conferring with Thomas E. Walsh of Grand Rapids, and Bruce E. Anderson of Lansing, commission members, Kelly said he agreed with the necessity for state aid in airport construction to stimulate the postwar aviation industry, but had demanded that all such fiscal requests stand on their own feet before the lawmakers.

Walsh said that under Federal legislation now pending Michigan might receive as much as $22,000,000 for airport construction in a three-year period if it had money to match the Federal grants.

He said the board would "settle" for $2,500,000 from the present legislature, adding "unless we get that much our whole program will bog down." Anderson said local communities would be required to provide the airport sites but could not be expected to provide all the matching funds, too.

Kelly said he doubted whether the public or the legislature appreciated the economic changes aviation will bring after the war and the necessity for the state to be prepared. Walsh said Michigan might lose its preeminence as an aviation production state, otherwise.

Walsh said money spent by municipalities in the past on their airports generally could be counted as local contributions to obtain part of the new Federal fund. He estimated that about $6,000,000 of the $8,000,000 spent on 174 Michigan airports would be credited as local contributions.

Stocks Of Iron Ore
Lowest In 4 Years

Cleveland, March 21. (P)—Total stocks of iron ore at furnaces and Lake Erie docks on March 1 declined to the lowest point in four years, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported today.

Stocks at beginning of the month amount to 24,576,589 gross tons, compared with 29,969,576 on March 1 last year. This is the smallest stocks have been since March 1, 1941, when they totaled 21,100,000 tons.

February consumption declined sharply from the same month of 1944. Furnaces used 6,370,504 gross tons last month compared with 7,207,342 a year ago. Cumulative total for first two months this year was 13,353,123 tons compared with 14,688,995 during a like period last year.

U. S. and Canadian furnaces in blast on March 1 totaled 176, and increase of six from a month earlier but eight below the same date a year ago.

NEW RUSSIAN
IN ON DANZIGATTACKS BEGUN ON ROAD TO BERLIN
WEST OF ODER

BY ROMNEY WHEELER

London, March 21. (P)—Russian troops drove a new spearhead within six miles southwest of Danzig today, as Soviet commanders to the west massed powerful formations along the Oder all the way from besieged and flaming Stettin upriver to captured Kuestrin.

The Germans said that Russian shock troops already had begun new attacks west of the Oder river within 32 miles of gutted Berlin.

Driving into the enemy's Danzig-Gdynia pocket, Russian troops swept up nine towns and villages including Klien Boelkau, six miles southwest of the former free city, and captured 600 Germans, Moscow announced. The Germans said the Russians were employing 500,000 men in the Danzig bay battle.

To the east other Soviet formations further split the lower end of the East Prussian pocket southwest of Koenigsberg, gaining complete control of the mouth of the Passarge river and capturing the road town of Grunau, three miles southwest of Heiligenbell, the enemy's only remaining stronghold in the area.

Shells Pound Stettin
Stettin was being pounded by a torrent of Russian shells hurled from siege lines less than three miles of that Pomeranian capital and port which protects Berlin on the north.

Far to the south another Soviet army attacking within 58 miles of Austria threatened the big Danube river stronghold of Komarno (Komarno) in northwestern Hungary, half-way between Budapest and the Bratislava Gap to Vienna, Berlin said. One Soviet wing also crashed into Szekesfeharvar, big road junction and former Hungarian capital 32 miles southwest of Budapest, the enemy said.

Girding for the great all-out Soviet offensive toward Berlin and Dresden, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian Army was reported ready to vault the Neisse river in an assault toward Cottbus, big communications center 47 miles from the Reich capital, and toward Spremberg, 13 miles to the south.

Fresh Russian gains were reported by the enemy in the shell-torn little pocket still held by the Germans southwest of Koenigsberg in East Prussia, and between imperilled Danzig and Gdynia, key German naval bases on the Baltic to the west.

Front Line Troops
Diverted To Fight
Italian Patriots

Rome, March 21. (P)—Bitter fighting in western Liguria between 500 Germans and Italian patriots was reported today in a 15th army group communique.

Increased activity by patriots in German-held northern Italy was said to have forced the enemy to divert strong forces of front line troops to combat the partisans and to protect supply and communication areas.

Action on the Allied battle front again was limited to patrol clashes. Eighth army patrols improved their positions in the Mezzano area northwest of Ravenna, taking a number of prisoners.

Along the Fifth army front in central Italy one patrol penetrated into German territory in the area of Monte Rumici.

Striking Filmdom
Workers Ordered
To Go Back To Jobs

Washington, March 21. (P)—The War Labor Board today ordered Hollywood film studio workers to end a strike which has seriously curtailed motion picture production for a week and a half.

On March 12, the day the stoppage began, the WLB wired strike leaders that the board could take no further action in the case until the men returned to work.

Today's telegram, however, was a flat order to end the strike.

FUEHRER READY
FOR HIDE-AWAYPostwar Confusion Will Bring Back Nazism,
Hitler Believes

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

London, March 21. (P)—Swiss newspapers reaching London today said that Adolf Hitler has completed preparations for a last stand in the fortress of Berchtesgaden from which he hopes—after a twilight period following Allied victory—National Socialist Germany will emerge to dominate Europe.

According to these reports, Hitler is resigned to the inevitable junction of the Russian and British-American armies somewhere west of Berlin in the near future, and a late German broadcast tonight said the big Allied trans-Rhine offensive in the west was imminent, possibly timed in conjunction with a final Red army onslaught.

Adding much to what previously had been reported of Nazi plans for a last-ditch stronghold in the mountains of Bavaria, the Swiss newspapers in a series of articles said: "The Fortress of Berchtesgaden is not a legend."

The articles said that Hitler has calculated that Allied victory will be followed after a short interval by conditions of tremendous chaos in which a witches' cauldron of untrained appetites for power, of disappointed hopes of the masses, social unrest and cruel civil wars will provide fertile soil for a revival of national socialism whose germ cell is to be kept alive at Berchtesgaden.

Campaign To Back
Up World Security
Launched By CIO

Washington, March 21. (P)—The CIO launched today a month-long campaign to garner support for a world security organization.

Designating the four weeks prior to the United Nations conference at San Francisco on April 25 as "United Nations Month" in the CIO, President Philip Murray said in a letter to union members:

"American labor, because it has always been in the forefront in the fight against Fascism, has a great responsibility to see that the fight stays won, to educate itself on the basic principles of our foreign policy and then to join with other patriotic citizens to impress upon congress the will of the American people."

PANAY ISLAND
RESISTANCE IS STAMPED OUTRUINS OF ILOILO CAPTURED BY AMERICANS

BY RAY CRONIN

Associated Press War Editor
Capture of Japanese-ravaged Iloilo city on Panay Island in the central Philippines was reported by Gen. Douglas MacArthur late Wednesday.

Simultaneously the general disclosed that, with guerrilla aid, all organized Japanese resistance on Panay had ceased and that the Nipponese suffered "extraordinarily" heavy losses along their collapsed Shimbun line in the mountains east of Manila, on Luzon island.

Japs Destroy City
Meanwhile the leaders of Japan, fearing invasion of the homeland, moved in the imperial diet to gain for the army powers that would place the entire citizenship and its property under the thumb of the military.

General MacArthur said the Japanese duplicating their depredations at Manila, destroyed 70 percent of Iloilo city. Northeast of Iloilo doughboys and guerrillas seized four towns and neared an airfield.

The Yanks on Luzon started a new drive against Baguio where Japanese headquarters are said to be located. These doughboys made juncture with the guerrilla commandos of San Fernando, La Union province, and headed for Baguio up a good mountain road.

The Yanks maintained the pace of their advance on southwest Mindanao.

American planes destroyed two midget submarines at Davao, southwestern Mindanao. Others "practically wiped out a Japanese convoy of six ships in the China Sea off Amer."

Carrier Force "Fleeing"
Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' communicate late Wednesday told of two army aerial strikes against Chichi Jima, in the Bonins north of Iwo Jima. Some of the planes flew from Iwo. Navy planes made rocket and strafing attacks in the Kuriles. Yap and Wake Islands also were blasted.

Radio Tokyo pictured Japanese airmen as pursuing the American carrier task force "fleeing southward" after its smashing attack on the Nippon fleet in the Inland Sea. Tokyo made the unconfirmed claim that eight Yank warships were sunk and two damaged during the two days the task force operated close to Japanese shores.

Preliminary report from the U. S. Pacific fleet said the task force airmen crippled between 15 and 17 Japanese warships, destroyed 475 planes and damaged many others. They also sank six freighters. Fleet headquarters said one U. S. warship, badly damaged, was headed for port under her own power.

Two Loss Bemoaned
The carrier plane strike and Superfortress incendiary raids on major industrial cities increased Tokyo invasion fears. Japanese government leaders urged the Diet to pass a law giving the army power to confiscate land, buildings and material for defense and to use any or all citizens for military service.

ADULT SCHOOL GREAT SUCCESS

Convocation Features Style Show, Talks, Exhibits

Students, teachers and guests alike were enthusiastic about the success of Escanaba's adult education school as evidenced by the final convocation at the junior high school last night. Joseph Charlebois, president of the board of education, expressed the program's success in saying, "The board is well pleased and very happy over the results of the adult education classes. What started as a mere experiment has proven to be fine success."

Some 500 attended the convocation during which an interesting variety of numbers including talks, music and skits, was presented. In opening the program, Charles Folio commented, "Sixteen weeks have elapsed since our scholastic labors were begun at the adult education school. It has gained something and it has been fun from the social point of view of the staff and myself." Mr. Folio introduced Joseph Ivens who was master of ceremonies.

Members of the public speaking class did an excellent job of introducing class representatives who in turn, told of the work done in various fields at the school.

The style show presented by the sewing class was a highlight of the program and among the types of garments modeled were children's clothing, wash dresses, aprons, afternoon dresses, blouses and jackets. Mrs. C. F. Lewis made comments during the style show.

Guy Knutson spoke on the plans for another adult school and told the results of a questionnaire submitted to students about two weeks ago. They had been asked to designate courses which they would like to have available next year and among them were home decorating, knitting and yarn craft, grammar, discussion course, furniture repair and a course on the world's greatest books. The present custom of meeting weekly on Wednesday night was preferred.

Mr. Knutson said that plans are being formulated by the faculty in the hope of continuing adult education. Next year, according to tentative plans, the first course, of eight weeks, will open in October and another of that length will begin after Christmas. Then, if interest is sufficient, a third eight-week course will be offered, winding up the latter part of April.

Results of the Spanish class for beginners were shown in the question and answer period between teacher and students on the stage, and in the Spanish song which was sung by the group. A clever skit was done by the cooking class students.

John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools, introduced Mr. Charlebois, who presented certificates to the course instructors. Mr. Lemmer read a letter from Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, of Lansing, congratulating Escanaba on its adult program.

Of special interest at last night's program were the photography and art exhibits. Of the art exhibit, which included still-life and figure drawings, Mrs. T. M. Cassidy, one of this city's leading artists, and also a student in the class, said, "Expression and not technique were stressed by Mrs. Powers. We all worked from the same model but each expressed his own interests and abilities. The work done in 16 weeks was remarkable. Experienced artists and those who had never drawn before worked together and our teacher stimulated us so that we drew from memory and imagination. Mrs. Powers is a skillful teacher."

Mrs. Cassidy mentioned that Mrs. Powers whose water color, "Past Glory" was in the Detroit Art exhibit, was one of 35 selected to go on to a Port Huron exhibit. Several numbers by the sophomore chorus of the senior high school, under the direction of R. P. Bowers, were enjoyed by the audience.

Instructors and members of their classes who received attendance certificates were as follows:

COUNTY BOARD MEETS FRIDAY

Special Session Will Be Held To Consider Road Strike

The Delta county board of supervisors will meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the courthouse in Escanaba in special session to consider the county road strike situation. The walkout of union employees occurred March 6 and is now in its sixteenth day.

The meeting of the county board was called by O. J. Thorsen, chairman, of Wells, ten days ago in response to a petition signed by ten supervisors. The petition cited "the work stoppage which now exists at the Delta county road commission" as reason for the special meeting.

Signing the petition were the following supervisors: August H. Olson, Gladstone; Peter N. Logan, Charles Priester, Victor Nelson, Carl E. Anderson, Samuel R. Wickman and Henry Wylie of Escanaba; Joseph Casimir of Masonville township; J. A. LaFramboise and Henry Cassidy of Gladstone.

The county board in January unanimously adopted a resolution urging the county road commission to recognize the union of its employees "by gentlemen's agreement or otherwise," and recommended that amicable relations with the employees be maintained to avoid a work stoppage.

The county road commission up to yesterday had refused to recognize the union and its representative, Arnold Alsten, business representative of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, Local 328. It cited the attorney general's opinion of 1941 as authority for its refusal.

Chairman Thorsen yesterday assured Peter N. Logan, one of the petitioning supervisors, that he would notify County Road Commissioner August Larson of Rock, chairman, Marcus McNabb of Escanaba, Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone, and Superintendent J. T. Sharpsteen to be present at the board meeting tomorrow.

The road commission met last night to discuss the strike situation but Superintendent Sharpsteen reported there were no new developments.

Intermediate Age Girls Attend Girl Scout Meet Today

Extension of scouting to more girls in Escanaba will move a step forward this afternoon when intermediate age girls will meet at the Junior high school for the purpose of forming troop groups. The meeting will be held at four o'clock.

Attending the meeting will be 45 to 50 Junior high school age girls who have expressed a desire to become scouts. An invitation is also being extended to any other girls in the intermediate ages who are interested to be present.

RULING FAVORS UNION

Marquette — In a decision received yesterday in the Negaunee offices of the CIO from Arthur Left, intermediate examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co., Marquette, was found guilty of unfair labor practice in the discharge from its employ, on Dec. 2, 1944, of Michael G. Pfaffle.

Left, whose decision was reported after a hearing of the case in Marquette, ruled that the action of the company was a violation of the Wagner fair labor standards act.

Pfaffle, when employed in the Cliffs Dow plant, was a member of the American Federation of Labor union, organized by employees of that plant. After the CIO started an organizational drive among Cliffs Dow employees Pfaffle became interested in CIO and subsequently became president of the CIO group in the Cliffs Dow plant.

8-Year-Old Youth Offers Piggy Bank To The Red Cross

Eight-year-old Hubert Pepin walked into the Red Cross headquarters here yesterday and inquired whether the Red Cross War Fund committee would accept his "piggy bank full of pennies" as his contribution to the current campaign.

Inquiry revealed that Hubert's father, Victor Pepin, is serving in the U. S. Navy, now stationed in San Diego, California, and that his mother is visiting her husband there. In the meantime, Hubert is residing with his grandmother, Mrs. John Pepin, 826 North 19th street.

Hubert explained that the Red Cross is not only helping his daddy in service, but that an uncle, S/Sgt. Francis Pepin, is a prisoner of war, and that the Red Cross is especially helpful to him.

Hubert was advised to talk it over with his grandmother, whereupon he left the Red Cross headquarters highly elated and with a promise to return soon with his contribution.

Three Grass Fires—Escanaba firemen yesterday extinguished three grass fires in the city. One shortly before noon was in grass and rubbish at Seventh avenue south and Lake Shore Drive. Two were in the afternoon, the first in the 2100 block on the south side of Ludington, and the second was on North Twentieth street at Fifth avenue.

Treat Is Promised In Salom Rizk's Munising Address

"Many unusual and highly worthwhile programs have been presented at Mather high school in the past ten years. But we doubt very much," says Principal R. W. Jackson, "if ever the young people of Munising or their elders will hear a more inspiring address than that of Salom Bizk, the 'Syrian Yankee,' who will speak tomorrow (Friday) morning at ten." Mr. Rizk's theme, "The Americanization of an American," is certainly highly fitting at this time. There will be ample room for all adults who wish to hear this patriotic speech. There will be a small admission.

Mr. Rizk is known to young people from coast to coast for his eloquent and rousing address which is based on his own amazing life story. His story is familiar to millions through the pages of the Readers' Digest, which publication financed his first nationwide lecture tour.

Newberry Man Dies In Fall Under Rail Freightcar Wheels

Newberry—John M. Ison, 56, was killed in a fall beneath the wheels of a railroad freight car at the Robbins Flooring plant here Wednesday afternoon. The accident occurred at three o'clock and was not clearly seen by any witnesses. At the plant it was said that Ison was on top of one of a number of cars which were being moved and fell in such a manner that the car wheels passed over his body at the waist. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Ison was born in Kentucky. He is survived by two sons, George in the Navy and Edward at Ontonagon. There are also three surviving sisters and two brothers. The sisters and brothers are Mrs. Rose Armstrong and Mrs. Ethel Lockwood of Newberry. Mrs. Lual Adams, Trout Lake; George Ison and Brack Ison, both living in Kentucky.

Arrangements for the funeral are incomplete.

JARVEY QUILTS OPA POSITION

Rationing Officer Takes Job With Oshkosh Motor Trucks

Lawrence R. Jarvey, district rationing executive of the Escanaba Office of Price Administration for the past two and one-half years, announced his resignation yesterday to take effect March 24. Mr. Jarvey will return to private business after a short vacation.

The resignation has been under consideration for several months. Mr. Jarvey said, but had been withheld "because of the belief I would be in a better position to contribute to my country's welfare through service in this important wartime agency."

Mr. Jarvey is the oldest employee of OPA in the Escanaba district, having joined the organization in September, 1942, when only three items, viz: tires, sugar and automobiles, were on the rationing list. He has helped the agency expand until today when every item needed for essential living is under rationing and eight million items are under price control. His assistance in the administration of the routine operations of all the programs has aided materially in their success. Mr. Jarvey has refused two opportunities to go into the national OPA office in Washington, preferring to remain closer to home.

Honored at Farewell Party
In accepting the resignation, Lawrence L. Farrell, district director, said: "Mr. Jarvey's services contributed greatly to the success of the Upper Peninsula program. We wish him every success in his new endeavors."

Mr. Jarvey has disposed of his business interests in Ontonagon and after a short vacation will associate himself with the Oshkosh Motor Trucks, Inc., of Oshkosh, Wis. After a period of training, he will represent the manufacturing firm in seven western states with headquarters in Denver.

A farewell party was given Mr. Jarvey on Monday evening by the men of the district office at which time he was presented with valuable gifts an appreciation of his long term of association by his co-workers.

At the same time Mr. Farrell announced the appointment of John S. Fauri, head of the mileage rationing programs for the past year, as Mr. Jarvey's successor. Mr. Fauri was formerly in the retail gasoline business in Iron Mountain and disposed of that business to join the OPA staff over two years ago.

Close attention to his responsibilities plus the background of experience in the business field brought Mr. Fauri rapid promotion. One year ago he was appointed to head the mileage rationing program. The latest promotion places him at the head of the entire rationing division.

An Election Issue

THE present long drawn-out strike of employees of the Delta County Road Commission may have an effect on the election of supervisors in the various townships of the county, when the township elections are held on the first Monday in April.

The issue is whether the supervisors, representing the various townships, will support the county road commission or the strikers, in negotiations looking to the settlement of the present controversy. It is said that backers of both the strikers and the county road commission, are demanding that candidates for the office of supervisor, shall stand up and be counted on the basis of the attitude they will assume, if elected. In some of the townships feeling runs high and as a result of the present emergency, new faces may be found on the county board, when that body convenes after the election is held.

It will be the first time when other than an individual's general qualifications will be an issue in a township election.

Because of the heated controversy developed over this matter and the multiplicity of communications that came to The Press, when the dispute was placed in the hands of the State Board of Mediation, in the interest of fair play and an unprejudiced decision, it was necessary for The Press to refuse publication to further communications concerning the matter.

Now that the strike issue has become a township election issue, the same rule that applies to the strike must also be applied to township elections.

National Suicide

GERMANY'S largest cities are a mass of rubble and the people are living in abject misery in cellars and ruins of dwellings, many without lights, water and sanitation facilities, according to a report by a Swedish correspondent recently returned to Stockholm.

But still the Germans fight on, and the outside world wonders why. The answer may lie in the effectiveness of Nazi propaganda and the fear of Gestapo. Propaganda Minister Goebbels has instilled into the minds of the German people the idea that they have nothing to gain by surrender. Then, there is the fear of prison or concentration camp if they intimate in the least that they desire an ending of the war. Possibilities for civilian revolt are slight in this war because of the vigilance of the Nazi party workers. Even plots within the army have thus far been effectively thwarted.

Adolf Hitler is going down to defeat and apparently is determined to bring the whole nation down with him. By his own suicidal policy, he will destroy Germany's ability to make war again for many decades. It is estimated already that the reconstruction of Germany to her prewar status will take at least 30 years. By this time, the German people should be convinced that the profits of war are nil. It is no longer a question of hard or easy peace terms. Hitler already has decreed the former by prolonging Germany's participation in this conflict long after the chances for victory have disappeared.

New Home and New Car

RANKING high among our citizens' consuming postwar desires, according to a recent poll, are the yens for a new home and a new car—the latter, no doubt, to enable them to stay away from the new home as much as possible.

This information is naturally of considerable interest to the auto makers and to the building and allied industries, and to the people who hope to get jobs with them after the war.

The automobile people seem to know their production capacity and their market so well that all they need now is the signal to switch from tanks and bombers to sedans and coupes. But builders seem a little at sea, judging from the conflicting guesses and estimates that are floating around.

In fact, predictions on postwar house construction by contractors, plumbers, painters and other interested parties have rivaled in variety the debate on 60 million jobs. But few have been so impressively buttressed by facts and figures as the speculations of J. E. Haines, an executive of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., which we came upon the other day.

Mr. Haines jumps off from the building cycle of 1919-1935. He puts down the expenditure on new non-farm dwellings in those years, and relates that expenditure to the national income. It turns out that in this period the country's average annual outlay for such construction was $2.9 billions, or 3.9 per cent of the national income after taxes.

Thus armed, he ventures into the realm of conjecture. He assumes that we can attain a national income of $120 billions a few years after the war, and will have $100 billions left after paying our taxes. He also assumes that this high income will give a greater share to the lower income groups than in prewar years.

Mr. Haines figures a budget of 3.75 per cent of our spending money for new houses would be about right. Then, with the help of National Resources Planning Board figures on income distribution, and U. S. Building and Loan Association statistics on the ratio of income to property valuation, he produces his estimate on how many postwar houses will be built, and who will buy them. It comes out like this:

Those $3.75 billions will build 680,000 dwellings. Three hundred thousand will cost $5500 or more (for house and property) and will be bought by persons whose annual income begins at $2500. Those making between $1000 and $1500 will be able to buy 142,000 houses in the $3400 class. The $1500-to-$2000 group will purchase 140,000 at an average $4200; the $2000-to-$2500 earners will buy 98,000 at about $5000 each.

Horses Still Important

DESPITE the greatly expanded use of tractors and other motorized equipment on the farms in recent years, there is still a place for the horse, according to a recent bulletin by the Horse and Mule Association.

In summarizing some of the advantages of the horse, the association points out there is no depreciation, especially when raising colts that are growing into money. There is not the traction trouble because of having rubber or steel on at the wrong time. There is a smaller investment in bot horses and machinery, leaving more money for other investment, such as farm of your own or the livestock.

In addition, the horse provides greater flexibility, for the horse can do a lot of jobs the tractor cannot do, the association contends. The horse doesn't always need a driver, such as when going through gates, husking corn, delivering milk and when doing many other jobs.

In other words, don't sell the farm horse short.

LAMPREY AND SMELT

(Sault Ste. Marie News)

A suggestion has been made that perhaps the secret of the mysterious disappearance of smelt is the sea lamprey which is reported increasing rapidly in Lakes Huron and Michigan, and spreading via the Sault river even to Lake Superior.

We are no authority on the question but the lamprey idea is something for Conservation Department scientists to figure out. Available facts seem to indicate that the vanishing smelt ran smack into a deadly enemy.

In the first place smelt were numerous. They were stocked from the ocean. The lamprey too is an ocean denizen. While smelt were plentiful the swift, deadly lamprey perhaps was content to prey on the smelt; now that the smelt has disappeared the lampreys are attacking lake trout, whitefish and other fish.

The job of eradicating the lamprey is Herculean, if at all possible of accomplishment. The commercial fishing industry and its products are so valuable to the Great Lakes district that every possible effort on the part of the Department of Conservation should be devoted to a solution of the problem.

It is to be hoped that a solution will be found before it is too late, before the lamprey makes the lake trout as scarce as the smelt has become.

Grace Allen Says

Well, I don't know yet whether it's funny or tragic, but that story about Adolf Hitler taking a wife to an Alpine hideout to raise little Hitlers is certainly a lulu. If you ask the typical German man in the street—and that's where most of them are living now—he'll tell you that one Hitler is already too many.

Then another story says there is talk he may take along a few spare wives. You can imagine the confusion with all those Hitler doubles running around!

My husband George, who is a baseball fan, says even the Nazis don't relish the idea of another war with Adolf Hitler pitching and catching and playing both the infield and the outfield. One Hitler, doing the coaching from the sidelines, has worked out bad enough.

READERS' CORNER

Q. I am positive that in my business training I was taught the slight difference between "maintainance" and "maintenance." But now I am told that there is no such word as "maintainance." Have I been seeing things?

A. I fear so. I've checked all my dictionaries, even back to my original Webster's (1828), and fail to find any listing of "maintainance." The only sanctioned form is maintenance, pronounced: MAIN-tee-nuss.

From M. L.: As a teacher of English, I dislike the way some of my fellow teachers go about skipping a syllable in such words as dictionary, secretary, cemetery, military, library. It's too, too British, isn't it? Why, even our librarians constantly refer to the "libry." What would you suggest?

Answer:
In a sound vocabulary,
It is always customary

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Cologne—Germany is finished as a modern industrial nation for at least thirty years. I am convinced of that after seeing the destruction in Aachen, Duren, Eschweiler and other towns in the Roer and Rhine valleys—and now this once populous city.

Childs

Furthermore, it seems to me that the argument over a hard or soft peace is irrelevant in the face of the extent of the destruction throughout Germany. Allied bombers have long since settled that argument.

According to airmen familiar with the progress of the bombing from the beginning, other cities have received even worse blasting than Cologne. Berlin, Hamburg, Bremen, Dresden and industrial centers such as Essen have been reduced in whole or in part to rubble.

The industrial areas of Silesia were destroyed in the battle against the Russians, and whatever remains will almost certainly be appropriated by the Soviets. If Berlin is defended in a prolonged siege, as now seems certain, that will put the final touch on the capital, which was also an important industrial area.

—90 PER CENT DESTROYED—
That was what happened here in Cologne. Bombing had carried the process of destruction very far, and the final attack did the rest.

According to the estimate of engineers on the staff of the Allied military government, 90 per cent of Cologne's industry has been destroyed. That may be a high estimate, but even if it were 80 per cent or 70 per cent the job of reconstruction is plainly overwhelming.

There is, it seems to me, no parallel with the last war and its aftermath. In November, 1918, Germany's industrial plant was intact. Raw materials had been cut off and the food supply was at a low ebb, but the capacity for recovery was unimpaired. German soil had not become a battle ground.

Consider the difference today. If the war goes on to the bitter end, with the Russian and American-British armies finally coming together, then almost all the chief cities will be in the same state at Cologne.

The transportation system is already so near destruction that it functions only for urgent military necessity, and sometimes not even then. It took three weeks to move one division from the Italian front into Germany, an operation which would normally take three days.

Look at Germany's plight from still another angle. The figure of 125,000 civilian casualties in Cologne is purely arbitrary, but, whatever it was, it certainly was high. Casualties in other big cities must also have been high.

—POPULATION DROPS RAPIDLY—
Before peace is restored, hundreds of thousands of fanatical young Nazis will die either in battle with the Allies or in civil disorders and the prolonged guerrilla warfare which will probably follow the end of organized resistance. Add this to the heavy losses already recorded and you get a picture of the dwindling population, with the most vigorous elements eliminated. Even at the height of the propaganda drive for more babies, the Nazis could make only a slight upward dent in the declining birth rate.

Their present fanatical drive, pointed toward suicide of the nation, seems to me to explode the myth of a superbrain directing Germany toward world conquest. If such a superbrain existed, it would have dictated capitulation when the Allied armies advanced to the German border. The damage that had been done to Germany from the air was serious then, but it was not irreparable.

More important, the Allies were wholly unprepared then to cope with the problem of occupation. In the time that has intervened, public opinion in both England and America has solidified in favor of stern treatment of the conquered nation, and we have begun to plan how this shall be meted out.

Who will be left to rebuild Germany, where will the energy come from, where will the capital come from? The Allies are plainly not in the mood of the '20s, when American-British capital went into "loans" for German reconstruction. The estimate of 30 years for recovery seems to me conservative. In fact, the question is whether Germany can ever approach her former position.

This is not to say that the dynamic force of Nazism, with all its inherent evil, has also been eliminated, for it has not. It can quite conceivably take a new form, rallying embittered Europe against the "barbarous Americans" for their work of destruction.

That, it seems to me, is not an impossibility. A great deal depends on the degree of success with which we manage our affairs both at home and abroad.

NEIGHBOR POLICY — When Mrs. Alicia (John Hugh) Street finished her well informed and intelligent presentation of England today at the joint meeting of the Escanaba Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, an observer found it interesting to hear the reaction.

Mrs. Street, who will return to London, will find it interesting also. The comments ranged from the definite Anglophobe who summed up his reaction in one forceful epithet, and the Anglophile who thought the good neighbor policy should be extended to embrace our British cousins.

As for the majority, they found themselves better informed but still in that hazy land of no opinion either for or against—which is by the far the better approach to international relationships. It is somewhat amusing to discover that many Americans have more preconceived opinions concerning the English than they have of any other foreign people. Perhaps this is due to familiarity. There is a wider and less restricted flow of information between our country and England than between ourselves and any other country in the world. We know more about the English, therefore we find more to criticize.

Quite the reverse is true of our relationship with the peoples of South American countries. Frankly, we still know very little about them except the favorable. Therefore we are, in the majority, willing to look upon them favorably. Yet they are separated from easy understanding by alien customs and an alien tongue.

The time to guard against prejudice comes when understanding reaches the point of a little knowledge—which is often a dangerous thing.

SIGN OF SPRING—Mrs. N. Olson of Escanaba Rt. 1 writes: "I thought I should tell you that spring is here—or just around the corner. Because I killed eight of the garden variety of garter snakes, all about a half foot long, while they were out sunning themselves on my lawn. They came up out of holes in the garden. I also saw a robin this morning. If I'm wrong about spring, please set me right on it. If I had a camera I would have taken a picture of the snakes and send you one."

Mrs. N. Olson.

Dear Mrs. Olson:
You must be right about spring being at hand. For a radio commentator said it was the warmest spring in 73 years. Besides, the almanac, places the first day of spring as March 20, while the calendar's opinion is that it is the 21st, and the office "Book of Knowledge" says it's the 22nd. There is no reason, therefore, why your opinion (and that of eight weatherwise garter snakes and one robin) should not be as good as theirs.

PEACE FEELER? — Through Stockholm comes an "unconfirmed rumor" that Hitler is preparing to marry "to show the world and the Germans his confidence in victory and leave heirs."

If Hitler thinks he is going to escape other forms of punishment by getting married, he is mistaken. So far as a Hitler heir is concerned, he might spare the world such final insult.

VANISHING AGE — It is reported from Lansing that the liquor industry and temperance groups have agreed to a bill which would make it a misdemeanor for a minor or other person to use the identification card of another person to obtain intoxicating beverages.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1935

Manistiquette—Mrs. Clyde D. Wygel, 437 Walnut street, entertained at a four o'clock tea yesterday. The spring motif was carried out in the decorations and cut flowers and yellow tapers.

Major honors in the Escanaba ping pong tourney were captured by the Boddy brothers last night, Fred Boddy winning the senior and city championship, and Bill Boddy capturing the junior championship in two of the most closely fought matches ever witnessed in this city. Fred Boddy won from Dr. W. R. Buttner in five long games. The junior championship, fight between Bill Boddy and Bill McCarthy, however, was the closest and most thrilling battle of the evening.

Possibilities of Escanaba having daily airmail and passenger service are raised with the announcement that plans are being formulated through which an air route may be established between Chicago and Marquette, with stops in several Lake Michigan cities as well as Green Bay and Marinette. Capt. W. Ehrenfeldt, former German war ace, who is instructor in aviation at St. John's Military Academy at Delafield, Wis., was in Escanaba this week to study local conditions.

20 Years Ago—1925

Mrs. Louise Bowman of Marquette is visiting her daughters, Mrs. Adolph Flink and Miss Flora Bowman, South Eighth street, and also came to this city to attend the golden wedding celebration of friends.

Manistiquette—A red and white illuminated sign has been erected by John Hallen at the new Roosevelt Hotel, formerly the American House.

Garden has the youngest mayor in the state of Michigan, if not in the United States. He is James Dotsch, who was elected village president in March on his twenty-first birthday. Mr. Dotsch was born March 9, 1904.

The present law requires persons 21 to 24 years of age, inclusive, to have an identification card before they legally may buy alcoholic beverages. The sale of such beverages to persons under 21 is illegal, card or no card.

The catch in the whole argument is that the identification card law obviously is being ignored—at least in Delta county. To date there have been 124 such identification cards issued to persons between 21 and 24 years of age, which means that only 124 persons in this age bracket in Delta county can legally purchase alcoholic beverages.

No amount of new laws making it illegal to trade cards will help if the cards are not now being used.

If there are but 124 persons 21 to 24 requesting Delta county drinking places, that age group is nearing the vanishing point.

NO ICE BREAKER—"Is the ice breaker coming in today?" That question became frequent Tuesday afternoon at the newspaper office, but remained unanswered because no one knew for certain whether it was or wasn't. Just where the Mackinaw was Tuesday no one seemed quite to know, and an answer would have been a speculation. (Perhaps by the time this appears the Mackinaw will have come and gone.)

Folks who drove along the bay shore kept their heads turned toward the ice-covered expanse, and Ray Shaw of the Senior high school faculty looked bayward every time he passed an upper-story window.

SWALLOW TOO MANY—Under a headline "The Swallows Come Back to Capistrano," the Daily Press (Page 1) presented a report on the return of the swallows to San Juan Capistrano, Calif. The story concluded: "A long-standing mystery is where the swallows spend the where the swallows spend the have been suggested."

Apparently there was one swallow too many.

The Lyons Den

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK—Attorney General Francis Biddle was a recent dinner guest at the Swedish Embassy. There he noticed an unusual bronze statue of a moose, made by a Swedish sculptor. It shows the moose with its head turned completely around. "That's a highly remarkable bronze," Biddle told the Ambassador, "but I don't think a moose can turn his head around that far." "I mentioned that to the sculptor," replied the Ambassador. "He said 'A moose can do that—in the spring.'"

THE CURFEW LAWS will be eased a bit, in favor of restaurants. Arthur Rank, the British film producer, will invade the cartoon field also. He has signed David Hand, Walt Disney's chief assistant, and they will produce a new type of cartoon film next year. A group of Latin-American experts who just arrived here are trying to effect a solution of Puerto Rico's economic ills by a mass movement of thousands of Puerto Ricans to Brazil. Alexander Granach of "A Bell for Adano," who died this week, is the author of a book about to be published. It's the story of his life in the theatre, and is called "There Goes an Actor."

JUDGE SAM ROSENMAN, the President's counsel and collaborator in the preparation of the Roosevelt speeches, returned to London this week. He arrived with Adm. Land, and a press conference was arranged for both of them at the American Embassy. Rosenman, a shy and cautious man, delivered his replies slowly, deliberately weighing each word. The result was a conference which produced no startling information. The Embassy press-man finally asked the reporters: "Anything more?" "Yes, one thing more," said Bob Bunnelle, the AP man in Europe. "Judge, you ought to have President Roosevelt write YOUR speeches."

FLUSH, THE Yorkshire terrier which toured the battle-front with Katharine Cornell in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," is back on Broadway now, rehearsing with the cast. Flush spent the past few weeks with its true owner, Flush has a jacket with a gold-stripe indicating 6 months' service overseas, and a citation from Gen. Clark. Whenever the show played in areas where food was scarce, Flush received more than enough, because the 17 members of the cast each donated one mouthful of food. . . . Instead, "I won't be able to make pictures this year," she notified the movie men.

DURING THE Yalta Conference, the question of colonies was brought up, and a proposal was made to hold this matter in abeyance, to be taken up at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco. . . . Prime Minister Churchill dissented, stating that he preferred not to have the question of colonies decided upon at the United Nations Conference. "I," said Churchill, "will not have the fumbling fingers of 52 nations meddling in the heritage of Britain."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. R. S. Allen now on active service)
Washington — Governor Lehman's UNRRA is doing its best to hush it up, but a very strange thing has happened in Greece. A British UNRRA worker was killed, and in his possession were found receipts for money paid by the British to Greek factions, to encourage them to fight against each other.

Pearson

The incident was in no way the fault of Governor Lehman or his Washington staff, since the Near East UNRRA is under a British director. Here are the so far-suppressed facts as to what happened. The UNRRA worker who was killed was L. F. Ram Shepherd, Chief of UNRRA's Greek Mission's Intelligence Division. On the rolls he was listed as "Mister" Shepherd, but actually he was a Colonel in the British army and had been in MO-4 and Force 133.

Colonel Shepherd joined UNRRA right after the liberation of Athens, but during the whole time up until his death he was acting for British intelligence, though using the American flag on his car.

After he was killed, UNRRA officials who took an inventory of property in the Colonel's hotel room found receipts for huge amounts of gold sovereigns. The receipts were dated Oct. 22 to Nov. 29, four days before the trouble broke in Athens.

The receipts said: "I have received from Mr. L. F. R. Shepherd a sealed bag said to contain 1,000 gold sovereigns." These receipts were signed by Greek leaders of various Royalist and Right Wing organizations. The amounts mentioned in the receipts varied from 100 sovereigns to 2,000.

—U. S. FLAG HIDE INTRIGUE—
In other words, all during the period when Greek political factions were trying to work out their own problems, a British Colonel, disguised as an UNRRA worker, was paying Greek Royalist factions to fight the EAM-ELAS group which had done most of the guerrilla fighting against the Germans.

After the fighting started, Colonel Shepherd kept on stirring up trouble. As an UNRRA officer, supposedly on a mission of mercy, he could travel freely between the British zone and the ELAS zone. And he did. Furthermore, he did so in a car draped with the American flag.

Under cover of the American flag he went into ELAS territory ostensibly to talk about food distribution, but actually to get military information.

When Colonel Shepherd's car hit an ELAS mine during the last days of the battle, it was still proudly bearing the Stars and Stripes, symbol of the land in which the Greek people have so much faith.

—GREEK TRAGEDY—
As early as October, 1943, one year before the Greek trouble started, this column told how all Greek guerrilla factions were brought by the British to Cairo and all voted unanimously, together with the Greek cabinet, that King George of Greece must not return until a plebiscite regarding him had been held by the Greek people; but that Churchill, ignoring this, wired King George to return to Greece at the head of his troops. . . . Also disclosed was how Churchill's won advisers warned him that trouble was sure to break out if he backed the Right Wing Royalists. . . .

Chief loans which the Greek government owes abroad are to the Hambro Bank of London. At one time Churchill was helped out financially by the Hambro family. . . . Most of Churchill's colleagues in the British cabinet have vigorously disagreed with his Greek policy, especially Foreign Minister Eden. . . . Roosevelt also sent Churchill some hot cables regarding Greece, after this column published the text of the Prime Minister's cable to General Scobie to treat Athens as "a conquered city." . . . Sir William Mathews is Governor Lehman's chief of UNRRA in Greece and the Balkans. He is so resented by American UNRRA workers that they signed a long statement protesting against his operations.

—FUTURE OF WAR CONTROLS?—
They're not talking much about it, but administration leaders are worried sick over the plan of congressional Republicans to settle all wartime controls as soon as Germany falls. If the GOP can hold its own strength and pick up a few dozen dissident Democratic votes, they might be able to knock out the war checks against inflation, the rationing program and other war measures which the White House feels are needed at least until Japan is defeated—perhaps longer.

Roosevelt leaders know that House Minority Leader Joe Martin has told newsmen that VE-day is D-day for the Republicans. And last week Republicans forced the House to amend the lend-lease act to forbid lend-lease to aid in the rehabilitation of Europe; while Republican members of the House Banking and Currency committee are filibustering the hearings on the Bretton Woods agreement.

That is why the Democratic leadership, although it has what looks on paper like a comfortable majority in both houses, is working night and day to keep all members in line. Its job on the lend-lease extension vote gave the first indication that it might succeed—only one Democrat voted "No"—Compton White of Idaho. But they know that the Republican ranks also are being closed. Early in the year Joe Martin laid down the law that rebellious members would be refused the committee assignments they wanted. And it is customary for Joe to threaten to put money and a candidate against them in the next election when they refuse to follow the party line.

The shortage of fowl has changed that popular old question to, why does the chicken cross the ocean?

Among the Bible citations is this passage (1 Corinthians 15:48-49): "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly."

Club Meeting

"County Government" was the subject of an interesting and informative talk given by Torval E. Strom, Delta county prosecuting attorney, before the members of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's club Monday evening at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Strom spoke briefly on the trend in government during recent years, saying that a great many of our governing bodies have changed from a functioning government to a business activity. In this connection, it was Mr. Strom's contention that because of the nature of the work in the various county departments which required highly specialized and trained workers to carry on the enormous amount of legal, financial, clerical, educational and other miscellaneous duties, that county manager government was not feasible. Mr. Strom paid tribute to the personnel in the various county departments for the efficient manner in which their work is administered.

Mr. Strom told of the enormous responsibility which is attached to the work of the county prosecuting attorney, who must be apprised of all contemplated changes in the various departments and must pass on them legally before they can be adopted. He also gave a detailed history of the tax structure of the state and county which

Baseball Gets Go-Ahead, WMC Exempts Players From Job-Jump Bans

SOLDIERS WANT GAME KEPT UP

Horseshoe Jugglers Seen As Aid To Morale In Wartime

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The War Relocation Authority today gave baseball a go-ahead on use of players who have been engaged in off-season employment.

In giving its full support to the continuation of baseball as a morale builder, the commission exempted players, coaches and managers from its job referral program.

This means that a baseball player who was in the game last year may leave a job in an essential industry and return to the game without danger of being referred to his draft board as a job jumper.

Chairman Paul V. McNutt of WMC said he took the action after having satisfied himself that there is a widespread demand, particularly on the part of soldiers in this country and overseas, for continuance of the game.

Baseball players in the game last year who have contractual relationships with any club, including an option for the current season, now may be "recalled to their principal employment," which is baseball, without going through the U. S. employment service.

An exception of the rule was made by WMC in regard to players in their first year of baseball, groundkeepers, ushers and such workers. All of these "may be hired only upon referral by USES," the WMC said.

The national policy was formulated at the request of Edward L. Keenan, regional director of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, and was sent to all 12 regional directors over the country.

BY JOE REICHLER

New York, March 21 (AP)—Major League Presidents Ford Frick of the National and Will Harridge of the American, as well as a majority of the club owners, were of the opinion that today's WMC ruling will do baseball's manpower situation a lot of good.

Harridge, surprised and pleased at War Relocation Authority Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's statement making ing it possible for baseball players working in essential industry during the off season to return to the diamond during the summer, said after reviewing it.

"Mr. McNutt's statement is very gratifying. It will give baseball the use of a number of 4-F players who upon re-examination still are found unfit for military service."

Reached by phone at his home, Frick replied, "I think it's a great thing for baseball. It practically assured a successful operation this season. Most important, it gives baseball some standing."

Horseback, president of the New York Giants, now in Lakewood, was jubilant. "This is the definite word we have been waiting for. We never did want players to be deferred from military service. I believe this ruling will make available a greater number of men of good calibre."

BASEBALL

Terre Haute, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Veteran fly chaser Wally Moses reported to the White Sox camp today. However, he told Manager Jimmy Dykes he had been accepted for limited service in the army, but that he could play ball until called. Moses' appearance swelled the Sox roster to 22, but Dykes is worried about his 13 absentees—among them Orval Grove, Joe Haynes, Mike Tresh, Bill Dietrich and Johnny Humphries. Rain today limited practice to throwing and running on the golf course.

French Lick, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Cold weather drove the Chicago Cub squad indoors today and Manager Charlie Grimm played the piano to accompany the indoor calisthenics of his athletes. Charlie was satisfied with the team's work, but said he was looking forward to Sunday's exhibition game. A basketball team composed of cub players will play a local independent team in a Red Cross benefit tonight.

Lakewood, N. J., March 21 (AP)—A drizzling rain kept both the New York and Jersey City Giants idle today except for a few pitchers who warmed up a bit.

Aside from Ernie Lombardi, the New York Yankees are certain of no regular catcher. The draft status of both Ray Berres and John Toneroff, the latter up from the Jersey City club, is uncertain. Consequently, Bill Dekoning, here for a tryout, is getting much attention. Formerly with the Giants' Clinton, Iowa, farm team, the 25-year-old receiver recently was discharged from the army. Outfielder Johnny Rucker is due in camp tomorrow.

Muncie, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Flurries of snow mingled with rain sent the Pittsburgh Pirates in doors for today's drills which were held in the high school field-house.

Lefty Fritz Ostermuller, the Brooklyn Dodger castoff who won 13 and lost eight for the Bucs last year, and Third Baseman Bob Elliot arrived in camp today.

"Rented the first day," said Smith. Try a For Rent Ad today.

TIGER HOLDOUT RUMORS HEARD

Dozen Men Unreported At Training Camp In Evansville

Evansville, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Twelve members of the Detroit Tigers' training camp squad remained unreported today as mild rumors of holdouts drifted through the club's Evansville quarters on the first day of spring.

Absentees included six players up from Buffalo, the Tiger farm in the International League. Four pitchers, including Rufus Gentry, who won 12 games for Detroit last season, and three who spent the bulk of the season with the Bisons—Walter Wilson, Forrest Orrell, and Bob Gillespie—have been overdue for a week. Arrival of Rookie Second Baseman Carl McNabb for today's pepper drill in 50-degree temperature and Third Baseman Bobby Maier, a short time later, brought the "on-deck" list to 23.

McNabb hit .293 and Maier .337 with Buffalo in 1944. Three infielders, three outfielders and two catchers still were missing, including First Baseman Rudy York, Outfielders Jim Outlaw, and Chuck Hosteler, and Third Baseman Mike Higgins.

Higgins' future was in the hands of Detroit draft examiners, who have scheduled his induction physical for tomorrow.

Other absentees today included Catchers James (Hack) Miller, and Al Unser, First Baseman Carl Sullivan from Buffalo, and Utility Man Don Ross.

McNabb, Joe Hoover, Eddie Mayo, Roger Cramer, and Rookie Outfielder Ed Mierkowitz went through their first workout today after arriving late Tuesday, deadline for infielders and outfielders. Maier, who the Tigers figure to convert to an outfielder, came in this afternoon.

Smarting Red Wings Itching For Revenge

Detroit, March 21 (AP)—Detroit's Red Wings, smarting under a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Boston Bruins and a tongue-lashing from Manager Jack Adams, will be out to even the first round Stanley Cup hockey playoff Thursday night.

The Bruins, whose surprising offensive power gave them the first game of the four-out-of-seven game series Tuesday night, were reported increasingly confident of their ability to take the series.

The Red Wings were still betting favorites, even though the odds had tumbled from 7-2 to 6-5 and Manager Adams said he would make no changes in Detroit's lineup in the second clash.

The Detroiters took some satisfaction from the other playoff game Tuesday in which Toronto scored a goal in the last minute to top the Montreal Canadiens 1-0. Montreal, top-heavy favorite in the Toronto series, has beaten the Red Wings frequently and easily.

The American Bowling Congress, which ranks the pin game with all of the efficiency of a well-oiled roller bearing, will be 50 years old come next Sept. 9 and is planning a modest celebration in observance of the occasion. Each city association will be asked by the ABC to promote its own anniversary party in a simple, dignified manner in keeping with the spirit of a nation at war.

Directors of the ABC will meet in Milwaukee April 5 and 6 to discuss policies for the anniversary celebrations next Sept. 9.

The ABC is the successor to the industrial city of Mannheim on the east side of the river.

Other Third army tanks stamped the Germans between the Rhine-bank cities of Worms and Mainz, and the Third army itself was largely in enemy hands.

Neustadt, important highway center 15 miles southwest of Ludwigshafen and 13 miles west of the Rhine at Speyer, was entered by the Tenth armored division, which yesterday had smashed through Kaiserslautern.

This drive within 19 miles of the Seventh army threatened to crush thousands of German troops against the sax-toothed line of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's American and French forces now fighting fiercely inside the Siegfried defenses between Lauterburg and Pirmasens.

Prisoners were pouring in by the thousands and, with the exception of a 30-mile stretch where the Germans were clinging to Siegfried line defenses against the Seventh army, the enemy was in complete rout. The third army alone had seized 3,275 German towns and cities since it started its present offensive March 13.

As this phase of the Allies' great western front offensive raged toward its conclusion the Germans declared that American, British and Canadian forces north of Cologne were about to open a new all-out attack across the Rhine at any hour. "An Associated Press dispatch said the Nazis were moving great numbers of troops into the area."

Nazis Beaten Back Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First army troops pushed out more than three miles at the northern end of their Remagen-Erpfel bridgehead east of the Rhine and seized more than seven miles of the southern bank of the Sieg River, extending from the Rhine to the town of Niederpleis, five and a half miles east of Bonn.

German infantry led by tanks made three new counterattacks against an American-held airfield near Eudenberg at the northeast corner of the bridgehead, but all were decisively beaten off. Doughboys fighting east of the superhighway took Sand and Waschpohl and fought into Eisbach and Rubhausen, a mile farther north.

Other sectors of the bridgehead were quiet.

Seventh army tabulations were far from up to date, but when the map-up is completed it is possible that the two American armies will have eliminated 75,000 Nazis in prisoners alone. The German First and Seventh armies virtually had been written off in the latest disaster to the Wehrmacht.

Nearing Big Cities The Third army's overnight advances measured up to 14 miles, with the major thrusts in the eastern portion of the disintegrating west-Rhine salient, where three of Patton's divisions were plunging toward the river.

The 11th armored pushed 14 miles to a point two miles south of captured Worms and four miles from the Rhine. The motorized 94th infantry division churned forward 10 1/2 miles to Gerolshausen, seven miles northwest of Ludwigshafen. Fighting was reported still raging in Mainz, which was entered Tuesday.

The Seventh army's 45th division enveloped and drove into the rubble heap that once was Homburg on the eastern bank of the Saar. The 63rd division captured St. Ingbert and Limbach, just southwest of Homburg.

The 103rd division, led by Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe of Bastogne fame, knocked out 20 more steel and concrete pillboxes in a hard forest. Many of them were manned by crack German regulars, who were offering Nazi resistance. Numerous Nazi prisoners asked the privilege of surrendering personally to McAuliffe.

At Mainz the Third army was 265 miles from Berlin and 93 miles inside Germany. Mainz is the birthplace of Gutenberg, inventor of printing.

Other important German cities either in or almost within range of American artillery tonight were Weisbaden, four miles across the Rhine from Mainz, and Frankfurt, 18 miles away. Frankfurt has a population of some 550,000, Weisbaden, 170,000. Karlsruhe, with 190,000 population, was only seven miles or so across the Rhine from French troops of the Seventh army pushing into the Palatinate.

Premier Kuniaki Koiso, becoming loss of two to Yank map as "the most unfortunate thing in the whole war situation," told his people "there will be no unconditional surrender."

British forces in central Burma launched a mopping up drive from Mandalay on some 30,000 Japanese troops squeezed between that city and Meiktila, 75 miles southward.

House-to-house fighting was in progress in Yau, center of China's Wolfram mining district in Kiangsi province. Chinese forces broke through the north gate of the walled town.

The Chinese were reported to be gaining on the outskirts of Kanhsien, former American base 50 miles northeast of Yau.

American Amateur Bowling Union which had been formed in 1890. The AABU had made considerable progress in promoting bowling and had changed the game from three balls per frame to the modern style of two balls per frame. The organization, however, destroyed its own influence over the game when it attempted to discourage league bowling and tournaments for prize money. The backbone of organized bowling throughout the nation today, of course, are the league setups and prize tournaments.

The American Bowling Congress was created Sept. 9, 1895 through the efforts of bowlers from New York, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Lowell, Mass., Buffalo, Astoria, N. Y., Chicago, Montreal, Kansas City, St. Louis and Wheeling, W. Va. The organization failed to expand for the first five years and, in fact, actually lost its charter enthusiasts. In 1901, the first ABC tournament was conducted in Chicago and the growth of the organization dates from then. The annual tournaments attracted new associations to the ABC until now all organized bowling in America comes under the jurisdiction of that organization.

Walters, who, as a 34-year-old last season had his greatest year since 1939 when he won the league's most valuable player award with a 27-11 record, is working in a Philadelphia war plant and thus far hasn't got his customary leave to play baseball. The same is true for 35-year-old Heusser.

Chicago, Cincinnati, Kansas City and St. Louis are the only cities that have been affiliated with the ABC for the 50 years of its development. Milwaukee, ABC headquarters, has been in the organization for 45 years. Incidentally, the Escanaba association, the Escanaba Bowling Club, has been in the organization for 19 years. Two years later the Marquette and Iron Mountain association joined up and the Menominee-Marquette bowlers came in the year after. The ABC has not indicated when the remaining associations of the peninsula joined but all bowlers in the peninsula now are affiliated with the ABC.

Apparently, however, the remaining upper peninsula associations joined the ABC within the past 11 years and the first tabulation by the ABC following a review of its records lists associations that have been in for 12 years or longer. The ABC has promised, however, to list those that have joined within the past 11 years and presumably this group will include the remainder of the bowling associations in the upper peninsula. The city associations, operating under ABC charters, serve as the organization's enforcement agency in every community and the unified rules have been the most important factor in the development of bowling in this country.

Elks Cancel Grand Lodge Convention The annual B. P. O. Elks Grand Lodge convention, scheduled to be held in New York City next July, has been cancelled in order to comply with the recent request of the war mobilization director, N. T. Stephenson, exalted ruler of Escanaba Lodge No. 354, has announced.

Mr. Stephenson quoted from a letter received from Dr. Robert South Barrett of Alexandria, Va., grand ruler of the nationwide fraternity, in which he said: "I am advising the 700,000 members of the Elk lodges throughout the country that the grand exalted ruler and the board of grand trustees have ordered the suspension of the 1945 grand lodge session which we planned to hold in New York City in July. This decision was made in order to comply with the recent request of War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes that all gatherings of more than fifty people be suspended for the duration. This is the first time in the seventy-seven year history of the B. P. O. Elks that a grand lodge session has been suspended, but we feel that it is our patriotic duty to cooperate with all government authorities engaged in shortening and winning the war."

Dr. Barrett also said that all state Elks associations have been instructed to refrain from holding meetings that are not strictly in line with the letter and spirit of Mr. Byrnes' request.

Ford River Harold's Birthday Party

Harold D. England was the guest of honor at a party given for him by his mother, at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Satterstrom, Saturday afternoon, March 17. The occasion was Harold's seventh birthday anniversary.

Games were followed by a lunch served at four o'clock. Table decorations and the favors were in the St. Patrick's Day theme and two large birthday cakes, one the gift of Mrs. Andrew Eckman, centered the table. Harold received many gifts, including a remembrance from his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nelson of Chicago.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eckman, Frank Bushe, Mr. and Mrs. Ted England and family, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Friedman and daughter, Mary, Janet Whitlock and Harold's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Satterstrom.

OUTLOOK ROUGH FOR CINCY REDS

Bloomington, Ind., March 21 (AP)—"This season will be brutal for us. We simply have lost too many players."

So speaks Manager Bill McKeechie of his Cincinnati Reds, team he has piloted to two National League pennants and never to lower than fourth place in seven seasons.

Right now, he predicts the Champion St. Louis Cardinals, the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs, who finished fourth behind the Reds last season, are the class of the league.

As the Reds opened their third day of spring training, only a half-dozen performers were missing from the 29 scheduled to report. These included such key men as Pitchers Bucky Walters, who won 23 games in 1944, and Ed Heusser (13-11); Veteran First Baseman Frank McCormick; Outfielder Gerry Walker; and Second Baseman Woody Williams. McKeechie, however, was worried only over Walters.

McCormick, who batted .305 in 1944, his seventh Redleg season; Walker, who celebrated his 37th birthday Monday, and Williams, 32, who broke in with the Reds last season, all are expected momentarily.

Walters, who, as a 34-year-old last season had his greatest year since 1939 when he won the league's most valuable player award with a 27-11 record, is working in a Philadelphia war plant and thus far hasn't got his customary leave to play baseball. The same is true for 35-year-old Heusser.

for lack of fodder.

The whole course of the evacuation on the eastern front, which was marked by panic and confusion, showed that Hitler was painfully surprised by the sudden collapse of the Vistula front. He had never expected the Red army would reach the Oder at such speed.

Party officials were the only persons not compelled to await official evacuation orders. They tipped one another off on the Russian advance and packed their documents and furniture in closed vans. Civilians had to await the official order and in large towns all they usually received was a notice abruptly informing them that an evacuation train would leave in two hours. The journey itself was an ordeal.

Russians Catch Caravans Many caravans from the east were overtaken by the Russians and had to turn back. In other cases Russian vehicles gave the refugees free rides westward. The vehicles often were manned by German soldiers serving in the Russian army or by German-speaking Russians.

The refugee caravans consisted mainly of women and children because all the men, even the oldest and half grown kids, had to stay behind to guard the roads with machineguns and bazookas.

One incident typifies the chaos of the great retreat.

In a German town which the Red army captured they found the body of the former German Evangelical church bishop of Oslo lying unburied in a cemetery. The bishop died of heart disease while he and his wife were trying to board one of the refugee trains.

No one stopped to help the 80-year-old widow. It was only after she had promised two old men a suit each from the bishop's wardrobe that they helped her carry the body to the cemetery where it had to be left unburied on the frozen earth.

Baseball Gets Go-Ahead, WMC Exempts Players From Job-Jump Bans

SOLDIERS WANT GAME KEPT UP

Horseshoe Jugglers Seen As Aid To Morale In Wartime

Washington, March 21 (AP)—The War Manpower Commission today gave baseball a go-ahead on use of players who have been engaged in off-season employment.

In giving its full support to the continuance of baseball as a morale builder, the commission exempted players, coaches and managers from its job referral program.

This means that a baseball player who was in the game last year may leave a job in an essential industry and return to the game without danger of being referred to his draft board as a job jumper.

Chairman Paul V. McNutt of WMC said he took the action after having studied himself that there is a widespread demand, particularly on the part of soldiers in this country and overseas, for continuance of the game.

Baseball players in the game last year who have contractual relationships with any club, including an option for the current season, now may be "recalled to their principal employment," which is baseball, without going through the U. S. employment service.

An exception of the rule was made by WMC in regard to players in their first year of baseball, groundkeepers, ushers and such workers. All of these "may be hired only upon referral by USES," the WMC said.

The national policy was formulated at the request of Edward L. Keenan, regional director of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, and was sent to all 12 regional directors over the country.

BY JOE REICHLER
New York, March 21 (AP)—Major League Presidents Ford Frick of the National and Will Harridge of the American, as well as a majority of the club owners, were of the opinion that today's WMC ruling will do baseball's manpower situation a lot of good.

Harridge, surprised and pleased at War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's statement making it possible for baseball players working in essential industry during the off season to return to the diamond during the summer, said after reviewing it: "Mr. McNutt's statement is very gratifying. It will give baseball the use of a number of 4-F players who upon re-examination still are found unfit for military service."

Reached by phone at his home, Frick replied, "I think it's a great thing for baseball. It practically assured a successful operation this season. Most important, it gives baseball some standing."

Horace Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, now in Lakewood, was jubilant. "This is the definite word we have been waiting for. We never did want players to be deferred from military service. I believe this ruling will make available a greater number of men of good calibre."

Terre Haute, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Veteran fly chaser Wally Moses reported to the White Sox camp today. However, he told Manager Jimmy Dykes he had been accepted for limited service in the army, but that he could play ball until Moses' appearance swelled the Sox roster to 22, but Dykes is worried about his 13 absentees—among them Orval Grove, Joe Haynes, Mike Tresh, Bill Dietrich and Johnny Humphries. Rain today limited practice to throwing and running on the golf course.

French Lick, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Cold weather drove the Chicago Cubs squad indoors today and Manager Charlie Grimm played the piano to accompany the indoor calisthenics of his athletes. Charlie was satisfied with the indoor workout, but said he was looking forward to Sunday's exhibition game. A basketball team composed of cub players will play a local independent team in a Red Cross benefit tonight.

Lakewood, N. J., March 21 (AP)—A drizzling rain kept both the New York and Jersey City Giants idle today except for a few pitchers who warmed up a bit.

Aside from Ernie Lombardi, the New Yorkers are certain of no regular catcher. The draft status of both Ray Berres and John Tomcoff, the latter up from the Jersey City club, is uncertain. Consequently, Bill Dekoning, here for a tryout, is getting much attention. Formerly with the Giants' Clinton, Iowa, farm team, the 25-year-old receiver recently was discharged from the army. Outfielder Johnny Rucker is due in camp tomorrow.

Muncie, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Flurries of snow mingled with rain sent the Pittsburgh Pirates in doors for today's drills which were held in the high school field-house.

Lefty Fritz Ostermueller, the Brooklyn Dodger castoff who won 13 and lost eight for the Bucs last year, and Third Baseman Bob Elliott arrived in camp today.

"Rented the first day," said Smith. Try a For Rent Ad today.

TIGER HOLDOUT RUMORS HEARD

Dozen Men Unreported At Training Camp In Evansville

Evansville, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Twelve members of the Detroit Tigers' training camp squad remained unreported today as mild rumors of holdouts drifted through the club's Evansville quarters on the first day of spring. Absentees included six players up from Buffalo, the Tiger farm in the International League. Four pitchers, including Rufus Gentry, who won 12 games for Detroit last season, and three who spent the bulk of the season with the Bisons—Walter Wilson, Forrest Orrell, and Bob Gillespie—have been overdue for a week. Arrival of Rookie Second Baseman Carl McNabb for today's pepper drill in 50-degree temperature and Third Baseman Bobby Maier a short time later, brought the "on-deck" list to 23.

McNabb hit .293 and Maier .337 with Buffalo in 1944. Three infielders, three outfielders and two catchers still were missing, including First Baseman Rudy York, outfielders Jim Outlaw, and Chuck Hostetter, and Third Baseman Mike Higgins.

Higgins' future was in the hands of Detroit draft examiners, who have scheduled his induction physical for tomorrow.

Other absentees today included Catchers James (Hack) Miller, and Al Unser, First Baseman Carl Sullivan from Buffalo, and Utility Man Don Ross.

McNabb, Joe Hoover, Eddie Mayo, Roger Cramer, and Rookie Outfielder Ed Mierkovic went through their first workout today after arriving late Tuesday, deadline for infielders and outfielders. Maier, who the Tigers figure to convert to an outfielder, came in this afternoon.

Prisoners were pouring in by the thousands and, with the exception of a 30-mile stretch where the Germans were clinging to Siegfried line defenses against the Seventh army, the enemy was in complete route. The third army alone had seized 3,275 German towns and cities since it started its present offensive March 13.

As this phase of the Allies' great western front offensive raged toward its conclusion the Germans declared that American, British and Canadian forces north of Cologne were about to open a new all-out attack across the Rhine "at any hour." An Associated Press dispatch said the Nazis were moving great numbers of troops into the area.

Nazis Beaten Back
Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First army troops pushed out more than three miles at the northern end of their Remagen bridgehead east of the Rhine and seized more than seven miles of the southern bank of the Sieg River, extending from the Rhine to the town of Niederpleis, five and a half miles east of Bonn.

German infantry led by tanks made three new counterattacks against an American-held airfield near Eudenberg at the northeast corner of the bridgehead, but all were decisively beaten off. Doughboys fighting east of the superhighway took Sand and Waschbold and fought into Eisbach and Rubhausen, a mile farther north.

Other sectors of the bridgehead were quiet.

Seventh army tabulations were far from up to date, but when the mop-up is completed it is possible that the two American armies will have eliminated 75,000 Nazis in prisoners alone. The German First and Seventh armies virtually had been written off in the latest disaster to the Wehrmacht.

Nearing Big Cities
The Third army's overnight advances measured up to 14 miles, with the major thrusts in the eastern portion of the disintegrating west-Rhine salient, where three of Patton's divisions were plunging toward the river.

The 11th armored pushed 14 miles to a point two miles south of captured Worms and four miles from the Rhine. The motorized 94th infantry division churned forward 10 1/2 miles to Gerolshausen, seven miles northwest of Ludwigshafen. Fighting was reported still raging in Mainz, which was entered Tuesday.

The Seventh army's 45th division enveloped and drove into the rubble heap that once was Homburg on the eastern boundary of the Saar. The 63rd division captured St. Ingbert and Limbach, just southwest of Homburg.

The 103rd division, led by Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe of Bastogne fame, knocked out 20 more steel and concrete pillboxes in a hard forest. Many of them were manned by crack German regulars, who were offering serious resistance. Numerous Nazi prisoners asked the privilege of surrendering personally to McAuliffe.

At Mainz the Third army was 265 miles from Berlin and 93 miles inside Germany. Mainz is the birthplace of Gutenberg, inventor of printing.

Other important German cities either in or almost within range of American artillery tonight were Weisbaden, four miles across the Rhine from Mainz, and Frankfurt, 18 miles away. Frankfurt has a population of some 550,000. Weisbaden, 170,000. Karkrub, with 190,000 population, was only seven miles or so across the Rhine from French troops of the Seventh army pushing into the Palatinate.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The American Bowling Congress, which rules the pin game with all of the efficiency of a well-oiled roller bearing, will be 50 years old come next Sept. 9 and is planning a modest celebration in observance of the occasion. Each city association will be asked by the ABC to promote its own anniversary party in a simple, dignified manner in keeping with the spirit of a nation at war. Directors of the ABC will meet in Milwaukee April 5 and 6 to discuss policies for the anniversary celebrations next Sept. 9.

The ABC is the successor to the American Amateur Bowling Union which had been formed in 1890. The AABU had made considerable progress in promoting bowling and had changed the game from three balls per frame to the modern style of two balls per frame. The organization, however, destroyed its own influence over the game when it attempted to discourage league bowling and tournaments for prize money. The backbone of organized bowling throughout the nation today, of course, are the league setups and prize tournaments.

Right now, he predicts the Champion St. Louis Cardinals, the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs, who finished fourth behind the Reds last season, are the class of the league.

As the Reds opened their third day of spring training, only a half-dozen performers were missing from the 29 scheduled to report. These included such key men as Pitchers Bucky Walters, who won 23 games in 1944, and Ed Heusser (13-11); Veteran First Baseman Frank McCormick; Outfielder Gerry Walker; and Second Baseman Woody Williams. McKeechie, however, was worried only over Walters.

McCormick, who batted .305 in 1944, his seventh Redleg season, Walker, who celebrated his 37th birthday Monday, and Williams, 32, who broke in with the Reds last season, all are expected momentarily.

Walters, who, as a 34-year-old last season had his greatest year since 1939 when he won the league's most valuable player award with a 27-11 record, is working in a Philadelphia war plant and thus far hasn't got his customary leave to play baseball. The same is true for 35-year-old Heusser.

for lack of fodder.

The whole course of the evacuation on the eastern front, which was marked by panic and confusion, showed that Hitler was painfully surprised by the sudden collapse of the Vistula front. He had never expected the Red army would reach the Oder at such speed.

Party officials were the only persons not compelled to await official evacuation orders. They tipped one another off on the Russian advance and packed their documents and furniture in closed vans. Civilians had to await the official order and in large towns all they usually received was a notice abruptly informing them that an evacuation train would leave in two hours. The journey itself was an ordeal.

Russians Catch Caravans
Many caravans from the east were overtaken by the Russians and had to turn back. In other cases Russian vehicles gave the refugees free rides westward. The vehicles often were manned by German soldiers serving in the Russian army or by German-speaking Russians.

The refugee caravans consisted mainly of women and children being chased all the men, even the oldest and half grown kids, had to stay behind to guard the roads with machineguns and bazookas.

One incident typifies the chaos of the great retreat. In a German town which the Red army captured they found the body of the former German Evangelical church bishop of Oslo lying unburied in a cemetery. The bishop died of heart disease while he and his wife were trying to board one of the refugee trains.

No one stopped to help the 80-year-old widow. It was only after she had promised two old men to suit each from the bishop's wardrobe that they helped her carry the body to the cemetery where it had to be left unburied on the frozen earth.

Harold's Birthday Party
Harold D. Englund was the guest of honor at a party given for him by his mother, at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Satterstrom, Saturday afternoon, March 17. The occasion was Harold's seventh birthday anniversary.

Games were followed by a lunch served at four o'clock. Table decorations and the favors were in the St. Patrick's Day theme and two large birthday cakes, one the gift of Mrs. Andrew Eckman, centered the table. Harold received many gifts, including a remembrance from his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nelson of Chicago.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eckman, Frank Bushe, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Englund and family, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Friedman and daughter, Mary, Janet Whitlock and Harold's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Satterstrom.

OUTLOOK ROUGH FOR CINCY REDS

Bloomington, Ind., March 21 (AP)—"This season will be brutal for us. We simply have lost too many players."

So speaks Manager Bill McKeechie of his Cincinnati Reds, team he has piloted to two National League pennants and never to lower than fourth place in seven seasons.

Right now, he predicts the Champion St. Louis Cardinals, the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs, who finished fourth behind the Reds last season, are the class of the league.

As the Reds opened their third day of spring training, only a half-dozen performers were missing from the 29 scheduled to report. SELLING WAVE CRIMPS PRICES

New York, March 21 (AP)—The March cycle of severe declines in the stock market was extended today by a new selling wave which brought losses of 1 to 3 points in the leaders but the final hour saw a general recovery from the lows.

Closing losses in the key groups ranged from fractions to more than a point. A few issues made a strong finish under special support.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite showed a closing drop of 4 of 4 point at 60.4.

Dealings totaled 1,340,000 shares—the largest volume since March 9—compared with 920,000 yesterday.

Down a point or more at the finish were Goodyear, Goodrich, Harvest, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Phillips Petroleum, Slick Oil, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Union Pacific.

RAILS UNDER PRESSURE
New York, March 21 (AP)—Railroad bonds continued under modest pressure in today's market but other groups developed greater interest than in the initial sell-off on Tuesday.

Declines were in the majority at the close, however, and ranged from small fractions to a 3/4 point in the case of utilities to a point or so in a group of secondary carrier loans. Sales picked up, amounting to 10,000 shares, compared with $8,000 the day before.

Around 45 individual issues lost a point or more. Wisconsin Central 4s yielded 2 3/8 at 89 3/4 and certificates representing the bonds lost 3/4 at 91 3/4. 2 1/2s of the same issue, smaller amounts included bonds of the International Great Northern, International Paper, Kenilworth Valley, Morris & Essex, New Haven, Peoria & Eastern, Rio Grande Western, Seaboard, Southern Pacific, Rock Island and Hudson River.

Scattered resistant spots included Montana Power 3-4s, National Distillers 3 1/2s, Union Pacific 4s, Philadelphia Co. 4 1/2s and Simmons Co. 4s. Manila Electric Railway 8s, selling for the first time in months, advanced 17 points on the sale of two bonds. U. S. governments were about steady.

British Empire bonds, including Australia and New Zealand, were up 1/4 to 1/2. Brazil 5s were higher in the foreign department. Brazil lost ground.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, March 21 (AP)—Grain markets broke sharply under nervous liquidation today but short covering and buying by pit traders developed on the heels and most of the losses were recovered.

Wheat and rye at times were off more than a cent under a commission house and professional selling attributed to favorable war news and the weakness of securities.

Prices of wheat today were only 47,000 bushels compared with 1,631,000 bushels a year ago. Corn was off acting for eastern interests.

At the finish wheat was 1-8 to 3-4 lower, corn 1-8 to 1-4 lower, soybeans 1-8 to 1-4 lower, oats 1-8 to 1-4 lower, rye 1-8 to 1-4 lower, barley 1-8 to 1-4 lower, sorghum 1-8 to 1-4 lower.

Buying by cash handlers and professional traders accounted for the strong rally in rye.

Finalists To Compete In Contests At EHS Today and Tomorrow

After elimination contests held Tuesday morning and night, 14 students will compete in the final forensic contests to be held at the Escanaba senior high school this morning and tomorrow morning. Preliminary contests in oratorical declamation and extemporane were Tuesday morning. They were judged by Miss Bernadette Brennan, Miss Helen Snyder and Miss Mary Vaughan. As a result of the judges' decision, Jim Degnan, Marilyn Groos, Antoinette Giansanti and David Locke will compete in oratorical declamation at the all-school assembly this morning. Extempore speakers at this morning's program will be Bill Brotherton, Richard Broad and Sue Moran. Miss Roma Irons, Miss Edna Marotz, and Miss Bernadette Lockner judged the elimination contests in dramatic declamation and oratory Tuesday night. In the final competition in dramatic declamation at tomorrow morning's assembly, Irma Bartley, Valerie Spade, Florence Olson, and Gerd Nilsen will compete. Lois Emrich, Gladys Schmelter and Lorraine Northrup withstood the preliminary competition in oratory and will speak tomorrow morning. Following the contests here, students in Escanaba, Menominee, Manistique and Gladstone will compete in a four-school meet to be held here April 13 is the date tentatively set for that meet. First and second place winners in each school contest will be eligible for the district meet. Later, a regional meet will be held in Gladstone. Garden Fisherman Has Narrow Escape Garden, Mich.—As Alfred (Red) Bodette drove along the ice near to the shore at Van's Harbor Sunday his car went through into 14 feet of water. Red reports that he tried to open the door to escape but was unable to, until the car filled up with water. Then as he could no longer keep his head out of the water the door was opened and he made his way out and up through the hole in the ice through water that appeared "yellow." He admits that this is the closest shave he ever had and realizes that he was fortunate to have such a happy ending. His brother-in-law, Robert Lester, jumped from his car as it went through the ice on the bay during a previous breakup. At La Rochelle, France, a man put two live oysters on a shelf and, in the morning, found two mice caught with their heads between the shells.

Betty Crocker says:
"Now...lovelier cakes in less than 1/2 the mixing time!"

Cake-Making by Our New Method is Faster... Foolproof... Fun!

"You don't cream shortening!"

"It's true! No tedious creaming of shortening and sugar. You save time, save labor. Yet your cake is fluffy, light, fine-textured!"

"You don't beat eggs!"
"Imagine! No separate heating of eggs! Just mix them right in with the other ingredients. So easy, yet you get far better cakes!"

"Use only 1 bowl!"

"Our New Method is a real wife-saver! There are fewer dishes to wash... cuts down on kitchen mess and bother."

Here's all you do:

- SIFT the dry ingredients all together into a bowl. Be sure to measure all the ingredients accurately.
- ADD the shortening, liquid and flavoring right into the dry ingredients.
- BEAT with a spoon, or mix with an electric mixer, for 2 minutes. Scrape bowl frequently. (See the recipe.)
- ADD eggs. Continue beating 2 more minutes. Pour into prepared pans and bake.

HERE's a delicious New Method recipe for Gold Medal Flour. It's called "Temptation" Spice Cake because few folks can resist it! It smells "yummy," tastes even better!
Remember, your mixing time is only 4 minutes... yet you get far superior cakes! Cakes that will probably excel the superb Gold Medal cakes you made before! Little wonder our New Method—developed by our Home Service staff—is sweeping America! It gives cakes of exceptional texture, lightness and tempting taste appeal... makes the most of Gold Medal's exceptional baking qualities!
Try this New Method "Temptation" Spice Cake now! (Be sure to read the Warning at left.)

Made by the Betty Crocker New Method—(Use only Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour)

Temptation Spice Cake

Have all ingredients room temperature (70°-75°). Shortening should be soft, not melted. Pre-heat oven to 350° (moderate). Grease and dust with flour two 8" round layer cake pans (1 1/4" deep). Sift Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour before measuring. Measure all ingredients accurately (level) before starting to mix.

- 2 cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour
3/4 tsp. double-action baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/2 cup high grade vegetable shortening
1 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla

*SUGAR SAVING SUGGESTION: Use 3/4 cup sugar and 24 cup white corn syrup. Reduce milk to 3/4 cup plus 1 tbsp. Add syrup with milk to dry ingredients.

Warning! Recipe above has been developed only for Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour. Don't attempt to use it with another flour! Furthermore, don't try to adapt the Betty Crocker New Method to old-method recipes. But Gold Medal itself is unchanged. It performs exactly the same as it always did with all your old recipes.
